SECURITY MEASURES AT ALL GATES

Western Washington Fair, in concern for the security of their visitors, has issued the following statement: "Due to increased security at the fair, all vehicles, coolers, purses, backpacks, diaper bags, packages, etc. may be subject to search upon each and every entry. No illegal or dangerous items, including guns and knives, will be allowed through any vehicle or pedestrian gate." Please allow extra time upon arrive, for search checkpoints.

The State 4-H Fair, while recognizing your need for equipment to care for animals and to complete participation in kitchen and other activity contests, encourages each 4-H family give careful consideration to must be brought onto the fairgrounds. Be prepared to open tack boxes, ice chests, and other containers. If boxes are locked, be sure a key or combination is in the possession of the person who presents the box at the security checkpoint.

PARKING

Please check current fairground maps for locations of exhibit areas. You will want to park in the lot that is most convenient for your activity. PARKING IS NOT FREE. Each entry into a parking lot costs $10.00 during the week and $12.00 on the weekends..

PASSES/TICKETS

- Through the courtesy of the Western Washington Fair, hosts for the State 4-H Fair, passes are available for participants and chaperones. Exhibits will receive one youth pass and one chaperon pass from the County Extension Office. Additional complementary pairs of passes, as required for your fair activity, will be available at the 4-H pass counter on the fairgrounds. It is located on the west corner of the dog/cat arena, Building 50, in the State 4-H Fair Office (see maps of fairgrounds buildings).
- The 4-H pass counter is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily for your convenience.
- 4-H exhibitors or their parent should request passes in person; do not send another 4-H member to get your passes. Passes will be available for livestock and rabbit/cavy exhibitors or their representative in the species' barns 6:30-11:00 a.m. on the morning of animal arrival only. After that time, passes will be available at the 4-H Pass Office.
- All additional family members and other guests must purchase entrance tickets. Anyone entering a gate before 10 a.m. must have either a pass or a pre-purchased ticket. Tickets are not sold at the gates before 10 a.m. You may purchase tickets at the 4-H pass counter prior to the day you need the passes. Discounted tickets are also available at Puget Sound area Safeway stores and Columbia Banks. Go to www.thefair.com for more information on locations and prices.

ENTRANCE GATES

Only employees, exhibitors, and those assisting with 4-H events will be allowed on the fairgrounds before 10 a.m.

- SERVICE GATE – Vehicle access to the fairgrounds. Attended 24 hours. Passes or pre-purchased tickets are needed for each vehicle occupant. The vehicle entry gate closes at 8:45 a.m. each morning. Dog exhibitors can bring their equipment and animal through this gate in the family vehicle, unload at the dog and equipment at the dog barn (leave someone in charge of these items), and exit promptly. Park in the Green Parking Lot, for ease of exit in the evening, when you must carry out all show supplies and materials. If delivering materials to the fairgrounds during the daytime, you may bring your packages to the Shuttle Service inside the Service Gate. After inspection, they will be delivered to the location you indicate. Someone must be at the delivery point to receive the material, or volunteer 4-H staff at that location must be informed of pending delivery.

- GREEN GATE – Opens at 6 a.m. for those with passes and pre-purchased tickets/ This gate is convenient to dormitories, dogs, horse barns/arenas, rabbits/cavies, and the State 4-H Fair Office.
- PURPLE GATE – Opens at 5:30 a.m. for those with passes or pre-purchased tickets.
- BLUE GATE – Opens at 6 a.m. for those with passes or pre-purchased tickets, Both the Purple and Blue Gates are convenient for livestock barns and 4-H Exhibit Building participants.
- GOLD GATE AND RED GATE – Both gates are open at 6 a.m. for those with passes or pre-purchased tickets.

ENTRY AND STORAGE FOR LIVESTOCK TRUCKS AND HORSE TRAILERS

No livestock trucks or horse hauling rigs will be allowed to turn off 5th Street into either the fairgrounds of the Livestock parking Lot. Livestock trucks will cross 5th Street from the parking lot, when directed by attendants, to enter the fairgrounds to deliver or pick up animals. Horses will be unloaded in the Livestock Parking Lot and walked across 5th Street to the back of the horse barns.

Pick-ups and trucks used for hauling animals, can be stored in the Livestock Parking Lot. Request a parking card to hang on your rear view mirror, as animals are being unloaded. You must register your license plate to get the parking card. Vehicles are expected to remain parked in this lot the entire time you are at the fair. If you go in and out daily, you will be expected to pay daily parking fees. No other vehicles may be parked in the Livestock Parking Lot.

CAMPER SPACE RENTALS

Camper space is available for campers and trailers, on a first-come reservation basis, from the Western Washington Fair. The State 4-H Fair is not involved in those arrangements. Please call 253-841-5020 to request reservation information. The Western Washington Fair Camping Reservations Office opens July 14. Space rent is $17 per night with no hookups, and $22 per night with water and power – no sewer – paid to Western Washington Fair. There are dumping stations in the camper parking lots and a mobile service truck does come in for your convenience. Early reservations are advised – camping space is limited. Refunds will be made, if WWF offices are notified at least three days in advance of entry date.

TENT CAMPERS ARE NOT ALLOWED ON THE CAMPGROUNDS, WHETHER ACCOMPANYING CAMPERS OR AS AN INDEPENDENT RENTAL.

Dorm shower facilities will be available only to 4-H members and their family members staying in “camperville”. Fees will be charged to offset additional operations costs, and will be collected at the 4-H Pass Office at the time gate passes are issued. Shower passes will cost $10 per person, and must be purchased at check-in time only. No refunds will be given. First priority shower use is to dormitory residents. Persons with shower passes will not be allowed to use showers prior to 7 a.m. or after 10 p.m. All visitors to dormitories will be expected to follow all rules posted therein. Use of dormitory facilities is a privilege, not a right. Your cooperation is essential for future access.

ROLE OF PARENTS/LEADERS AT THE FAIR

The State 4-H Fair Trustees and staff would like to welcome you to Puyallup. We know that your young person has worked hard to earn an invitation to participate at the Fair, but we want to also recognize the contributions made by those who are not exhibiting while at Fair. We strongly encourage you to read all the material we have prepared for your young person's participation at State 4-H Fair. Collecting a premium book for their use would be helpful, too. You can find more information as well as the Premium Book at the web site: <http://4h.wsu.edu/statefair/index/htm>

The purpose of this letter, besides letting you know that we're glad to welcome you, is to explain how parents and other non-exhibitors can participate in the Fair. You will notice that there are several places in the printed material where do's and don'ts for non-exhibitors are mentioned. While the term "non-exhibitor" sounds rather negative, it's meant to imply that we understand that 4-H'ers receive both practical and theoretical support from many people in their lives in addition to parents. And it's a lot more to the point than saying "All parents, step-parents, adopted parents, grand parents, brothers, sisters, cousins, good friends, ..." Well, you understand!

The support of parents, family, and all of those described under the umbrella "non-exhibitors", is very important in the lives of children and young adults. By giving them our support, we help establish a strong base for self-worth, regardless and exclusive of any awards or ribbons they may receive while they are exhibiting here. That's why it may seem strange that there are so many "don'ts" attached to non-exhibitors at the State 4-H Fair. We are asking you to provide a different kind of support to your exhibitor, while they are at Fair, than you normally might in other circumstances.

As the world has become a more complex place for children to grow up in, the role of 4-H has had to undergo some subtle and not so subtle changes, too. Now 4-H not only tries to teach good animal husbandry, but also life skills that kids can use later on to help themselves in many ways. Demonstrations can help kids become more comfortable with speaking in public, and teaches them to organize their thoughts. Keeping record books helps them learn discipline and organization. Herdsmanship helps them learn to share, work as a team member and accept responsibility.

What role does exhibiting at a fair have in teaching life skills? In a practical sense, think about having an important job interview. A livestock show is more or less based on the same principle. An interviewer (a judge) is looking for someone who fits the job description (shows the qualities that best illustrate the standards for fitting and showing an animal). Those who have prepared both mentally and physically and can present themselves well will most likely receive the job offer (the award they desire).

Part of the application process for many jobs is testing, both physical and mental. Participation in a show teaches 4-H'ers that while preparation is very important, they must learn to think quickly and plan ahead while on the move.

Part of what kids are asked to exhibit, along with their abilities and animals, are the life skills they have learned while in 4-H. Most of all, State 4-H Fair is about what kids have learned to do, not about what we can assist them in doing. Most parents and non-exhibitors, by the time that magic "arrival day" rolls around, have done enough to help children get here, and can retire... While you might give your child a ride to that job interview, you certainly would not accompany them into it. After all, you're already got a full time job - being a parent and a friend.

So, your role in this Fair is that of giving support, during their most and least successful moments ... and to let your 4-H youth do the work they've been preparing to do!

Here are some practical tips to make your Fair attendance more comfortable:

- Bring some lawn chairs, so you can relax while you watch your kids doing herdsmanship. Don't sit "front and center" – let their good work and the animals they are so proud of be what the fair visitor sees first.
 - Cushions, extra blankets, and a thermos of hot drinks or ice chest of cold beverages will contribute to your comfort in the bleachers and barns. There will be a designated location, out of the public's eye, where you can enjoy your soda or coffee.
 - If you're feeling like you really want something to do to help out, check with the superintendent or come over to the State 4-H Fair office. We take volunteers of all kinds.
 - Encourage your exhibitor to get lots of rest. It's hard to shine in an "interview" if you're half-asleep.

There's just one more thing we want to explain, before you get here. We will request that there be someone around your county exhibit at all times while the Fair is open to the public, as an adult volunteer barn monitor. People will try to touch the animals whether or not we post "Don't Touch" signs. It's in our best interest to discourage them. It will be much easier for us to say, "I'm sorry, but please don't get too close to the animal" than it is to deal with the unpleasant aftermath of an accident. Your help, whether it's sharing your time or encouraging your kids to help with this, is needed and appreciated.

APPROPRIATE DRESS

During your stay at the State 4-H Fair, we want you to have the best experience possible. The State 4-H Fair Board has developed the following dress code to assure that no one will feel offended or uncomfortable during his or her stay. If you choose to dress inappropriately, you will be asked to change. By planning ahead and packing appropriately, you will save yourself the inconvenience of having to change and you will be contributing to a pleasant fair atmosphere.

All clothing shall be neat, clean, and acceptable in repair or appearance and shall be worn within the bounds of decency and good taste as appropriate for 4-H events.

Articles of clothing which display profanity, products, or slogans which promote tobacco, alcohol, drugs, sex or are in other ways distracting are prohibited.

Excessively baggy clothing, and clothing which advertises gang symbols or affiliation is prohibited.

Items of clothing which expose bare midriiffs, bare chests, undergarments, or that are transparent (see-through) are prohibited. Tank tops with straps wider than one inch are permitted. Please be advised that spaghetti straps, shirts which expose a bare back, halter tops, and tube tops are prohibited.

DORMITORY INFORMATION

DORMITORIES WILL OPEN BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 10.

For security reasons, the location of the dorm is not marked on any map. You will be directed to the dormitories when you arrive and check in at the State 4-H Fair Office.

- For sanitary reasons, there are no mattresses on any of the dorm beds. Please bring your own pad or blanket to cover the springs.
 - Rules for occupants of the dormitories are listed separately in this publication. Dorm residents are expected to be familiar with the rules before they sign into the dorm. Rules apply to all residents, including adults.
 - Housing is not guaranteed to all who request it!
 - Occupancy in dormitories is limited to State 4-H Fair exhibitors and one chaperone per exhibitor; other family members are admitted, as housing is available. No one under 9 years of age will be admitted. Males and females will be in separate dormitories. The cost of the dormitory is $5 per night per exhibitor, $10 per night for one chaperone per exhibitor, and $25 per night for any other family member. Over dormitories for females, when open, are available at a nightly cost of $3 per exhibitor, $6 per one chaperone per exhibitor, and $25 for any other family member. There are no overflow facilities for males.
 - The only adults/chaperones that will be allowed in the dormitories are currently enrolled 4-H leaders and parents/guardians/immediate family members of the exhibitors. Adults not currently enrolled in the 4-H program may be required to undergo a background check with the Washington State Patrol before being allowed into the dormitories.
 - Any check returned by the bank for any reason will be assessed a $25 charge by the State 4-H Fair, in addition to any additional bank-generated charges.
 - All dormitory charges help defray the costs of security, supervision, and maintenance.

DORMITORY CHECK-IN PROCEDURES

Read all information in the Premium Book and in this informational sheet prior to deciding to make use of the dormitory facilities. Completion of dorm check-in implies your agreement to abide by all dorm expectations.

Please fill out and mail Exhibitor Information Form WS4HF/1.01m before coming to the State 4-H Fair. Prepare one form for each 4-H exhibitor; do not prepare a separate form for chaperones, parents, or non-exhibitor/non-chaperone family members. Postmark in time to be received in the State 4-H Fair Office at least one day prior to your arrival.

Park in the Green Lot, unless your animal-hauling vehicle is stored in the Livestock Parking Area. Enter the Green Gate.

You will begin your check-in at the dorm/pass counter in the office. Your information will be processed, fees paid, and armbands placed on dorm residents and shower band purchasers. Your space is confirmed as soon as payment is completed.

You may use the elevator when carrying your belongings to/from the dorms. Turn in your receipt to the dorm supervisor when you check in at the dorm. The dorm supervisor will give further instructions about selecting and marking your bed and completing your occupancy information.

Washington State 4-H Fair Dormitory Occupancy Rules

Dormitories are provided by Washington State 4-H Fair and the Western Washington Fair to accommodate the housing needs of 4-H and FFA exhibitors during their State 4-H Fair or FFA Exhibition activities. Additionally, the 4-H State Fair Board expects 4-H youth to be adequately supervised by responsible adults. To support that purpose, and because of increasing demand for dormitory space, the Washington State 4-H Fair Board has determined the following rules.
